JAMBALAYA a la Creole

- 3 tomatoes
- 2 quarts mixed seafood
(Lake shrimp, oysters, crab)
- 2 onions
- 1 tablespoon butter
- Salt, Pepper
- Cayenne to taste

- 2 sprigs each of thyme
and bay leaf

JAMBALAYA a la TULANE

Jambalaya at Tulane is similar to the famous Creole dish—a combination of many diverse elements brought together into one meaningful unity. Like the culinary Jambalaya our yearbook is an effort to take individual ingredients, in this case those which compose a university and university life, and so combine them by our own recipe as to present them to you in a complete and attractive book.

The basic elements of every yearbook are necessarily similar due to common features found in every university. But as the spices and seasoning of Creole Jambalaya differentiate it from ordinary stew, so the personalities and eccentricities, the organized programs and spontaneous occurrences which are our “chef’s touches” flavor our yearbook. We offer you then the specialty of the house, Jambalaya à la Tulane.

DEDICATION

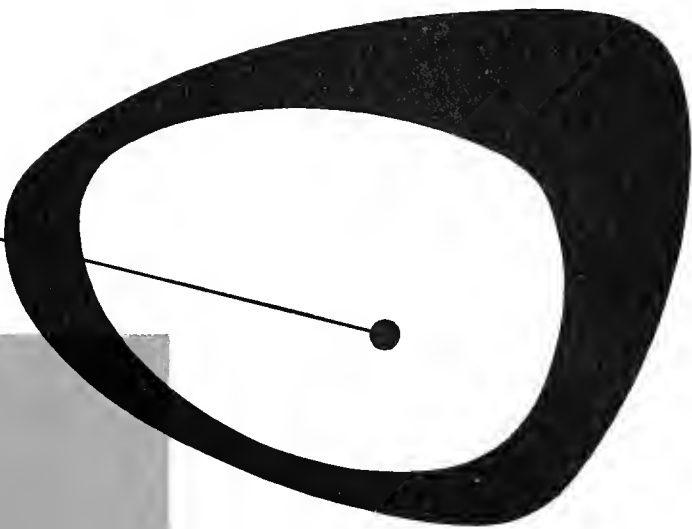

The position of esteem held by Tulane Medical School is tribute enough to Dean Maxwell E. Lapham. His accomplishments in the field of medical education and obstetrics have continued to bring honor to Tulane University in the years since 1940, from which time, save the war years, he has served as Dean. Dean Lapham has been a constant inspiration to both students and faculty, and his endless devotion to the medical profession and to Tulane has proved an invaluable credit to all. In slight token of sincere admiration and appreciation, the staff of the 1956

JAMBALAYA is honored to dedicate this volume to . . .

PRESIDENT RUFUS CARROLLTON HARRIS

Message from the President

Campus life at Tulane is growing. New residence halls are providing the occasions where students meet frequently with other students, with faculty and with distinguished visitors. Plans are under way for a University Center with the facilities for an integrated program of community activities. Such a Center will make possible the joining together of recreational activities and social events with cultural programs and aesthetic and intellectual endeavors. The increased contacts made possible by these facilities will contribute much to the development and growth of each student. There should be no categorical choice between curricular and extracurricular activities. The extracurricular contribute both life and meaning to the curricular. A sense of proportion comprehending the best interests of both is sought. Tulane seeks to support an extracurricular life for students and faculty in which both may find inspiration as well as recreation.

BOARD OF ADMINISTRATORS

The board of administrators consists of the administrators of the Tulane Educational Fund. The board is the true governing body of the University, having the ultimate decisions in cases of broad Tulane policy. A body of continuing tenures consisting of prominent Tulane alumni and citizens of the New Orleans area, the board maintains constant cognizance on the world of education so that Tulane may continue to set the pace in this field. In addition to the present officers headed by President Jones, the board's Chairman Emeritus is Mr. Charles Rosen, its Secretary and Treasurer is Mr. A. P. Generes, and Secretary and Treasurer Emeritus is Mr. Lawrence A. Wogan.

The administration of Tulane University is a tremendous job requiring many specific duties. The "Administrators" are the men and women who hold these varied positions in our university. Each has a specialty and is the director of his field on the campus. This group includes Vice-Presidents, Directors, Deans, and Counselors. Behind them, in their departments, is the functioning of the technical and financial units of Tulane.

As the leaders of their respective divisions, the "Administrators" are in a position to meet the student and the public, so we here picture and name them. Keep their faces and names in mind for each student will be serviced or counseled by each of these administrators during his stay in Tulane. The university is proud of these men and women for the extremely important part they play in the university system, and takes this opportunity to thank them.

DIVISION OF STUDENT LIFE

As the campus community becomes more and more developed and complicated, the significance of the division of student life is made more clear.

The various student personnel officers on the staff of the Dean of Students are responsible for the integration of the social, cultural, and recreational life of the student in such a way that an atmosphere will be created wherein the learning process may best be fostered.

By means of the orientation program at the beginning of the academic year, the personnel staff strives to assist new students in making the difficult transition from reliance on parents to reliance on themselves, from a living experience within the family to life in the residence halls or group experience in large campus organizations.

Through a counselling system both in the office of the Dean of Students and in the residence halls, and through a faculty advisory system in the student organizations, the office of the Dean of Students attempts to bring the influence of the faculty to bear upon the students in and out of the class room hours. In this way it is hoped to promote the best possible relations among the students themselves and between the students and the members of the faculty.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

In September of 1834 our medical school, as the Medical College of Louisiana, was founded as the first medical school in the Southwest.

The usual four-year program leading to the degree of Doctor of Medicine is offered by the medical school.

The school also offers many graduate courses leading to the degrees of Master of Medical Science, Master of Public Health, and other degrees in public health. A number of short courses are offered in different specialties.

THE HUTCHINSON MEMORIAL BUILDING

The school year of 1955-56 marks another true milestone in the history of the Tulane School of Medicine. In the fall of this year, construction was completed on the new Hutchinson Memorial Wing of Tulane's downtown medical center. The completion of the new building, in addition to increasing the accessibility of the latest equipment for modern medical research and teaching, makes possible the union of the entire four-year student body in a single central location.

By the fall of 1956, the entire medical school will be situated in the downtown location directly adjacent to Charity Hospital. As well as unifying the medical school, this move also provides additional classroom and laboratory space uptown by vacating the old medical building.

With all due ceremony, the new building was dedicated. The invaluable benefits of it are already being realized. The Hutchinson Memorial Building is concrete evidence of Tulane's constant progress in the field of medical education.

SCHOOL OF LAW

The School of Law has as its primary objective the training of students for the practice of law in Louisiana, but this is not its only aim. The school must be able to train students for the practice of law in other parts of the country, as well as in the Latin American and other foreign countries. The unique legal history of Louisiana, along with the geographical position and Latin culture of New Orleans, makes it particularly appropriate that the school serve a varied group of students with a diversity of legal programs.

NEWCOMB COLLEGE

Newcomb College was established in 1866 by Mrs. Josephine Louise Newcomb as a memorial to her only daughter. It was the first women's college to function within the framework of a university. Newcomb has a full curriculum of Liberal Arts, including Music and Art, and also provides a program of study abroad during the Junior year. Study abroad combined with the cultural milieu of undergraduate school in New Orleans, presents a student with the best of cultural and educational background.

The ultimate purpose of the College is the provision of the opportunity for a girl to discover and develop her talents and to become aware of the traditions of her society in order that she may significantly contribute to the art of democratic living.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

The purpose of this college is to assure every student both an opportunity to receive a sound general education and a good base for future specialization. Some students will prepare themselves for entrance into graduate and professional schools, while others will terminate their formal education with the bachelor's degree. But in either case, the college offers its students preparation for positions of leadership and trust in their home communities.

Oldest of Tulane's undergraduate colleges, The College of Arts and Sciences enrolled its first students, twelve freshmen and two sophomores, in the fall of 1851.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The School of Business Administration was founded in 1914; in 1942 it moved into Norman Mayer Hall. Over the entire period the school has provided for its men and women substantial professional training for business careers. It has sought to enroll students of intellectual competence, good character, and leadership potential. The School of Business Administration has strived to provide the business community with graduates who command a working knowledge of business management, and who can be counted upon to serve the community and the nation.

SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

The School of Engineering of Tulane is one of the oldest and most well rounded in the South. It has been offering degrees since 1894. This school offers four year curricula leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in Chemical, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering. The engineering curricula emphasize basic science and engineering sciences along with professional engineering courses to provide a strong foundation for any phase of professional practice.

Graduate work leading to the Master of Science degree is offered in each engineering department.

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE

The School of Architecture is primarily concerned with and dedicated to the development of a living and vigorous native architecture for the southern region.

Through the five year program, the school strives to integrate the architect as a social human being, a good citizen of his environment large or small. Though first aims are for the South we feel that the student should be equipped to adapt their work to any region.

GRADUATE SCHOOL • UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

Graduate work at Tulane began in 1883. Courses of study leading to the degrees of Master of Arts, Master of Science, Master of Fine Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy are now offered. Admission to the Graduate School usually depends upon a better than average record in undergraduate school. Steady emphasis is placed upon research training.

University College is the evening and adult education division of Tulane University. It offers degrees in the fields of liberal arts, commerce, medical technology and nursing. It also offers introductory courses in the fields of engineering and architecture. The faculty is made up of members of the various University faculties plus lecturers from the community outside the University. Although it is primarily an evening division many of its students take day courses, and many day students take evening courses.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK • SUMMER SCHOOL

The School of Social Work is a professional school offering graduate preparation for positions in public and private welfare organizations and agencies. Specialized preparation is offered in group work; family and child welfare; medical, psychiatric, and school social work; and social welfare planning. The School of Social Work is a member of the Graduate Division of the Council on Social Work Education.

Summer school may be attended by students enrolled in any

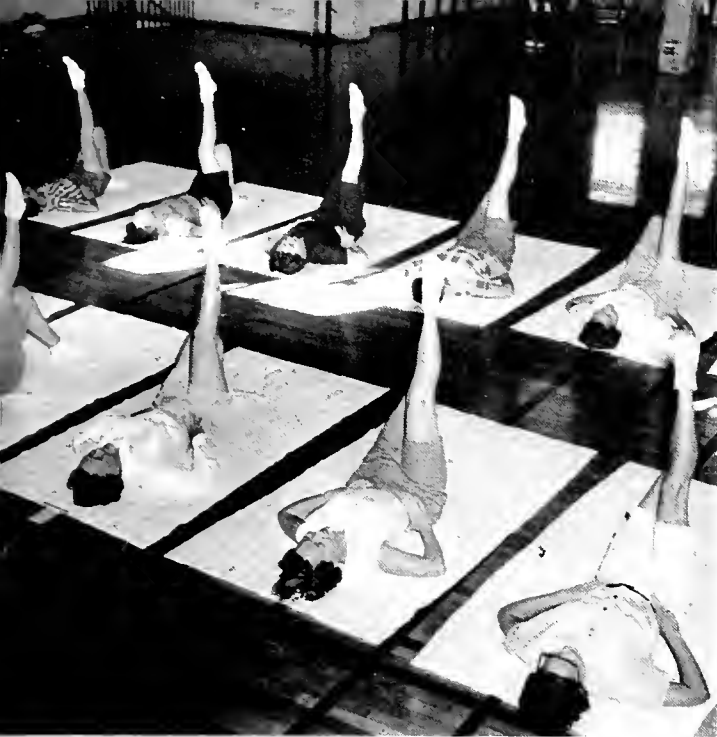

College of Tulane University or any other university. The courses offered are used toward undergraduate degrees, and also are applied toward degrees in graduate school. Summer school offers an opportunity to schedule work which could not conveniently be fitted into regular programs, to supplement programs with courses of particular interest, to make up deficiencies of prerequisites; and to reduce the length of time required to qualify for a degree.

NEWCOMB ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

The Newcomb Alumnae Association composed of all graduates and former students, is a means of channeling loyalties to Newcomb. Its office is housed in the Tulane Alumni House where files and pertinent information are kept. Made up of a national group of officers and clubs located in leading cities in the United States, its activities include thousands of women and cover a wide range of interests.

Its two national meetings yearly are held, one at Homecoming and the other at Commencement time. Its purpose is to fill college needs when they arise, to foster alumnae activities, and to serve as a tie between future, present, and past students and the college faculty and administrators.

The Tulane Alumni Association was organized in 1898 and is devoted to the broad principles of service to Tulane University. Since then Tulane alumni have taken an active part in the progress of one of the South's oldest and greatest educational institutions. Through the Alumni Association the University maintains contacts with graduates and former students. The Tulanian, alumni magazine, is sent free of charge to all alumni.

Active Tulane alumni clubs exist in many parts of the world. Each year the Association sponsors Homecoming, a celebration which brings graduates back to the campus for reunions and other activities.

The Tulane Alumni Fund, organized in 1946 by the Alumni themselves, is conducted by Class Agents, Area Representatives, and other alumni. The Fund has increased each year both in numbers of contributors and money contributed. It has become a strong financial support of the University and has been another means of nurturing alumni interest.

The Tulane Conferences are in their third year and are projects of the Tulane Alumni Association, designed to cooperate with and encourage alumni clubs of the University. This year seminar-type programs were presented through the Conferences in Alexandria, Shreveport, Monroe, Lake Charles and Lafayette, Louisiana, Jackson, Mississippi and Mobile, Alabama.

JAMBALAYA BEAUTY COURT

The Jambalaya staff was confronted with a difficult task in having to choose fifteen finalists from the one hundred and fifty girls attending the annual Jambalaya Tea. All girls regularly enrolled at the University with the exclusion of freshmen and those previously appearing in the Jambalaya Beauty Court were eligible. After much deliberation the fifteen finalists were chosen. From the finalists, Miss Pauline Tulane and seven other Beauties were selected by the students in a campus-wide election. Chosen by the students were Joan Berg, Bart Bridges, Becky Carson, Melita Corrigan, Ruth Harper, Jackie Jones, Nancy Kirkendall, and Marion Wiener. Miss Pauline Tulane and her court were presented at the Pan-Hellenic formal held in February.

The Newcomb Student Council is the piloting unit of a self-governing student body. It is composed of the officers of the Newcomb Student Government Association and the Presidents of the Honor Board, Resident Student Government Association, Pan-Hellenic Council, Art School, Athletic Council, Music School, and the Four Classes.

The Council has the power to initiate legislation, charter all clubs and organizations on campus, consider any proposed amendment to, or revision of, the constitution, and approve the holding of any election on Newcomb Campus. It also has the administrative function of carrying out the legislation and constitutional rules of the Association.

The Student Council strives to maintain the ideals and preserve the strength of Newcomb College by encouraging a close student-faculty relationship and by embodying in its actions the active and creative spirit of an association of able and adult individuals. It is able to achieve these ideals with the cooperation of the studentbody.

NEWCOMB HONOR COUNCIL

Newcomb students take pride in their system of honor which holds the integrity of each student above all else. Under the Honor System each student is accountable on her honor for her conduct. Violations which endanger the system and thus the personal honor of every member are dealt with by the Honor Board, which is composed of representatives elected by the Newcomb student body.

The Resident Student Government Association is composed of all residents of the Newcomb dormitories. The Dormitory Council, composed of representatives from each dormitory, is the self-governing executive, legislative, and judicial body of this Association. Its purpose is to develop an efficient system of self-government among the dormitory girls in all matters relating to their conduct, both individually and socially, and to uphold the standards and regulations of the dormitories.

This completed '56 JAMBALAYA is concrete evidence that many endless hours of toil have realized fruition. The work necessary to publish a modern college yearbook is beyond the comprehension of the uninitiated. A yearbook staff must plod on month after month with no apparent productivity—a fact in itself which hinders continued work, for interest and drive are quickly turned to apathy when no reward appears. A staff must keep plugging at tremendous amounts of frequently tedious and repetitious material, knowing the reward will come only in the increasingly distant future.

The staff of the '56 JAMB has worked tirelessly, producing the necessary quantity of finished material and keeping the quality of the work high. Without such work, and the cooperation of such a staff, an editor could never put out a yearbook.

Four heads are better than one

What's your opinion Flo?

Let's get down to serious business

Business Staff

In publishing this year's JAMBALAYA we have tried to keep several ideas and ideals in the fore. We want the JAMB to be attractive to the student. We feel we have improved the attraction of the book through such innovations as Mary Reeves' cover, the antique stock division pages, and increased readability. We have kept the type large and uniform and limited the written material.

We have striven to present a year's activity at Tulane in a meaningful manner, not merely as a potpourri of unrelated photos. With this arrangement and presentation, the JAMBALAYA Staff hopes that its efforts have paid off in the only true criterion of success—student satisfaction.

HULLABALOO

Walter Ward with Hulla business staff

As the Hullabaloo entered its 51st year, it was short on talent but long on determination. With the exceptions of its faithful columnist Russ Dietrich and dictatorial Copy Reader Lurilla (of flaming hair and disposition fame) Harris, the editorial staff was recruited almost from scratch. Joan Barkerding carried on as Society Editor and "Pete" Evans as star reporter.

On those frantic Tuesday afternoons in the Fall, the office was a good cross between a journalism class and a jazz concert. Merrill Gerstner had come in as Managing Editor, and brought a radio that played "cool" or else. Editor Mid, who blows a cool typewriter, would take the only two copy pencils and beat time on the telephone. This killed any potential journalistic activity; but he was never able to figure out why there was still so much to do when the whistle blew at 5:00.

There were no more worries for '55, because Walter "Fagen" Ward was back as Business Manager. Many of the staff members never saw Walt; he said that the decibel level was far too high for him to get anything done on Tuesday afternoons. Guess it was those "Law School Nerves."

It was reassuring to have a lawyer around later though, when the Hullabaloo took stands on some controversial editorial subjects. The paper spoke out against the "Southern Gentlemen" and segregation, and firmly held its ground in the face of the expected barrage of criticism.

At the end of the first semester Merrill graduated and Joan Barkerding took over as Managing Editor. Throughout the year, Feature Editor Don Whittinghill turned out many mammoth features on campus personalities, and Mid continued his losing battle to convert the student body to Modern Jazz and sports cars.

The Publications Board, a relatively new organization, is composed of the editors and business managers of all official Tulane publications, an elected member of the Student Council, a representative of Theta Nu Journalism Fraternity, and two senior class officers of any of the colleges. The Vice President of the Student Body is Chairman. The board is the supervisory body of all official publications and acts in an advisory capacity on matters of policy. Another important function of the publications Board is the selection of the editors and business managers for the JAMBALAYA, Hullabaloo, Student Directory, and Wave.

Since the Board controls the campus publications, it is an extremely important part of Student Government, for it exemplifies the growing degree of self-government at Tulane. The Publications Board is not a censoring committee but a group of students insuring freedom of the press on our campus.

The students recognized in Who's Who each year are nominated from approximately 600 colleges and universities. Campus nominating committees are instructed, in making their decisions, to consider the student's scholarship; his co-operation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities; his service and citizenship to the school; and his promise of future usefulness. Recognition by Who's Who means that the student was first officially recommended from the university or college he attends and then accepted by the organization.

At the last Newcomb Student Body Meeting of the year, freshmen girls, outstanding in leadership, service, scholarship, and school spirit are tapped for Assets, honorary sophomore organization. The new members are elected each year by the outgoing members.

The Assets don white dresses during the year to act as ushers at numerous school functions including the May Day festivities. During fall orientation they are Big Sisters to the incoming freshmen.

Alpha Sigma Sigma is the honor society founded in 1915, whose purpose is to serve Newcomb College. This year it has expanded its service program to promote the campus Symphony concerts, Audubon Screen tours, and Lyceum lectures. Alpha Sigma Sigma hopes to become affiliated with Mortar Board soon. The requirements for membership are a B average for the three years preceding election, service to the school, and lecturership on the campus.

The Tulane University Spirit Klub is an honorary organization for the promotion of school spirit. It is composed of members of every social fraternity and sorority as well as independents who have shown their ability and desire to foster better spirit at Tulane.

This year the TUSKs sponsored "Howdy Week" on campus to promote a friendly spirit among Tulane and Newcomb students. The boy and girl who were most responsive to the greeting, Howdy, were chosen king and queen. Other activities of the club included participation at football games in taking charge of the decoration of the goal posts and helping with the seating in the student section.

A TUSK member is distinguished by his blue jacket with the green and blue "T" and white tusk. TUSK members this year have worked with the other spirit groups on campus toward an increasing spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm at Tulane. Bon fires, dances, and Campus Carnival are the highlights of the year-round program.

Greenbackers is the oldest spirit organization on the Tulane campus. Its members are representative of all the sororities, fraternities, and independents on campus and are chosen on the basis of their interest and desire to work in furthering school spirit.

The organization began the year by selling greenie beanies to freshmen and aiding in Orientation by participating in the "Meet the Team" Program. During football season the Green-backers distributed shakers and helped with seating in the student section at the games, sponsored pep rallies where the members presented skits depicting the spirit of the coming football game, distributed slogan stickers, and painted signs publicizing spirit. Later in the year the Greenbackers ushered at Sorority Skit Night, participated in Campus Carnival, and presented awards at the final basketball game of the season. The organization also carried out various service functions designated by the Student Council.

The Order of Adelpheons was founded at Tulane University in 1949 to act as a service group to the University, to promote mutual understanding and cooperation among fraternities, and to establish closer relations between the fraternity men and Tulane. It is an inter-fraternity organization composed of not more than three representatives from each fraternity. Principal activities include ushering at Commencement exercises, Convocation and the Symphony Concerts. The group holds several social events during the school year.

Lagniappes, the University Student Dance Organization, was successful in bringing together the students of Tulane and Newcomb at university-wide dances. Beginning the year with a big welcoming dance in honor of all the freshmen, Lagniappes continued its fall activities with "Student Stomps" held in conjunction with the campus spirit organizations preceding home football games. The group also sponsored the Homecoming dance in the fall and presented the university Christmas Dance in cooperation with the choral groups before the holidays. They ended the year by giving the students of Tulane a gala Spring Formal.

STUDENT DIRECTORY

The Tulane University Directory took on a new look this year with many additions and innovations. Most obvious was the light blue cover with Eugene Brandt's Ivy League drawing. Other new features of the '56 Directory were the inclusion of important campus extensions and the listing of campus organizations and their presidents which have proved a great help to everyone. Probably the biggest surprise was the Buyer's Guide, sponsored by Delta Sigma Pi Business Fraternity, which contained a classified listing of 75 types of businesses catering to students.

The 1955-56 school year proved to be one of the most spirit-filled years of Tulane. And this was due in no small part to the seven vivacious Cheerleaders of Tulane: Stephen Andry, Lavinia Brock, Rose Mary Gehl, Sherrill Herring, Charles King, Charles Mitchell and John Moffett. All students of Tulane and Newcomb, the Cheerleaders led the football spectators in school cheers and general animation at both the home and out-of-town games, the latter including trips to Austin, Texas; Athens, Georgia; Mobile, Alabama; and Baton Rouge. They also performed at pep rallies and basketball games during the season.

The Cheerleaders have shown a great degree of leadership on the Tulane campus both on and off the playing arena. Student Chapters of the American Society of Civil Engineers are established to help civil engineering students to enrich their college courses by beginning those professional contacts and associations which, continued through life, are so valuable to the practicing engineer.

The Tulane Joint Student Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and Institute of Radio Engineers provides opportunities for the students to participate in independent functions brought about by their own initiative and fosters those qualities needed by the engineer which are not fully cultivated in the classroom. The purpose of the Tulane University Theater, the dramatic organization on campus, is to produce plays. There are four major productions and several one-act plays and dramatic readings presented each year.

Probationary membership in this organization is earned by working or acting satisfactorily in one of the shows, and full membership is granted to those participating in two or more shows in one season. Participation in the plays or crews is open to any interested member of the "university family"—students, faculty, staff, and their husbands and wives.

An attempt is made to produce plays of different periods and styles as is exemplified by the 1955-56 season. These plays were "Papa is All," a modern comedy; "Death Takes a Holiday," a fantasy; "She Stoops to Conquer," from an eighteenth century Restoration play; "Theines Carnival," a romantic farce.

In the graduate program there are scenes produced usually over a week at the playhouse depicting styles of the various periods of theater beginning with the Greek Theater and progressing to the modern period. These scenes are open to the public.

TULANE UNIVERSITY BAND

The Tulane University Band draws its membership, during the football season, from the male students of the University. During the concert season membership is open to women as well. The band performs at all home football games and is noted for its intricate and interesting "Half-time Shows." Its theme song "Way Down Yonder," is a forerunner for much popular swing music played at each game—both in the stands and on the field.

The Band, of course, is centered around its capable director, John J. Morrissey, without whose inspiration the Tulane Band would not exist. Mr. Morrissey's national reputation as a composer is well known.

The Spring Concert, presented by the Band the first week in May, is an annual event. In addition, a Spring Concert Tour is a yearly planned activity which this year included Little Rock, Hot Springs, Texarkana, Shreveport, and Alexandria. As a concert band the "Chief's boys" have a few peers among universities throughout the country, presenting annually perhaps the most eagerly awaited show of the year on the campus.

TULANE-NEWCOMB UNIVERSITY WORKSHOP

CARDON V. BURNHAM, Director

Probably one of the hardest working and most rewarding organizations on the campus is the Opera Workshop. Organized four years ago, this group has grown steadily in size and musical production under the careful guidance of its outstanding young director, Cardon V. Burnham.

Since its organization, the Opera Workshop has become a separate group and dramatic and musical standards have been raised to a very high level. Such works as Debussy's L'Enfant Prodigue, Menotti's The Telephone and Amahl and the Night Visitors, Vaughan Williams' Riders to the Sea, and this year's presentation of Mozart's The Impresario and The Poor Sailor by Darius Milhaud are just a few of the outstanding operatic works produced by this group. This year was completed with the performance of Pergeles's The Maid as Mistress, and the World Premiere of the opera Nitecap written by the director, Cardon Burnham.

The members of the Workshop are from all departments of the University. They are introduced to various phases of opera and light musical presentations and to various aspects of backstage work, such as making and setting scenery, operating lights, and designing costumes. But whether the members wield a hammer, make costumes, sing or work lights, each will agree that working with this group is a challenge and a truly thrilling experience.

The Opera Workshop provides University students and town people with the opportunity to gain an "education in opera."

"Operation Education" was the name of Campus Night's 1956 musical comedy. Presented on March 2 and 3, this year's show was an original production, from the writing of the script and music to the construction on the sets.

"Operation Education," set on Criswell University Campus, pictured three men from the Armed Forces who were selected to return to college. The play centered around their life in the dormitory and on campus, depicting their mischief-making as well as their good deeds.

This year's Campus Night resulted in a hilarious show, presenting to the university audience the talent of Tulane-Newcomb students.

Among the latter were the Christmas Candlelight Concert, and the Spring Concert which was followed by the annual dance in conjunction with the Newcomb Glee Club. Also in the spring the 45-voiced male chorus traveled to Biloxi to present a concert for Gulf Park College.

CARDON V. BURNHAMDirector

1954-55 saw a new choral group join the University's family of musical organizations, the University Chorus. This group is a modern adaptation of the Festival Chorus of former years, and its return was welcomed by many. The Chorus began last year with a stirring performance of Gabriel Faure's Requiem and Howard Hanson's Lament for Beowulf. The 110-voice group left school for the summer vacation filled with eager anticipation of an even greater season in 1955-56, and they were not to be disappointed.

The following September they were joined by members of the faculty, staff, and friends of the University to double the size of the group and offer new prospects of a good year.

The first performance of the school year was given with the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra. The University Chorus and Symphony presented Mozart's Requiem in celebration of the Bi-centennial of Mozart's birth at the Municipal Auditorium on January 10th and at McAlister Auditorium for the student body on January 11th.

In May the group presented Felix Mendelssohn's Elijah . . . a work familiar to many. The performance was given on the campus.

The highlights of the year for the choir include a Christmas Candlelight Concert, a Spring Concert, and a Spring tour. In the past, the choir has given concerts in such cities as New York City, Atlanta, Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile, Jackson, and Houston; while this year, the group will travel to St. Louis and Memphis.

An orientation program for incoming students proved highly successful to judge by the majority of lower classmen participating. Friday evening religious services were conducted throughout the session, and on alternate Sunday evenings, cultural meetings which hosted many distinguished lecturers were held. A social hour followed each function. The Thursday weekly seminar on "What the Jew Believes" attracted students of all faiths. We, of Hillel, look forward to even greater progress during the coming school year.

The Newman Club is an organization for Catholic college students. Its purpose is to provide the student with religious, intellectual, and social activities, in that order of importance.

Last year Newman Hall was acquired as a permanent home at 1037 Audubon St. Now after one year of occupancy, the club membership is the largest in its history. The 130 members of the Newman Club at Tulane University are only part of the 300,000 members of the National Newman Club Federation composed of some 500 colleges from coast to coast.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

The Westminster Fellowship is a group of students with a purpose. Our purpose is to build in ourselves good Christian characters. We endeavor to do this through our Sunday evening meetings and noon-day chapel services which help us to grow spiritually, and through our monthly parties which help us to grow socially.

We meet at the St. Charles Avenue Presbyterian Church every Sunday night for a supper meeting. Our noonday chapel services are held in the Methodist Student Center in conjunction with the Methodist Student Group.

The Wesley Foundation is the Methodist Student Movement on the Tulane campus. Our main objectives are to integrate the students and the church into university life; to provide an opportunity for intellectual stimulation, wholesome recreation, and spiritual growth; to restate the gospel in contemporary terms; and to aid the student in the realization that college is a vocation in itself. Student-led devotions are given Monday through Friday, and the main program meetings are on Thursdays at five.

Pass in Review!

ARMY R. O. T. C.

Under the guidance of Lt. Col. Fred A. Polumbo, the Tulane unit of the Reserve Officers strives to prepare college men for service in the U. S. Army. Primarily a Transportation Corps Unit, the Tulane ROTC furnishes officers in many specialized branches of the service. Between the Junior and Senior academic year, members of unit spend six weeks summer camp duty at one of several army camps throughout the country. The ROTC unit sponsors many activities during the year, including special reviews, sponsor elections, Military Balls, and awards day. The Army ROTC also participates in all areas of intramural sports as well as interunit drill competitions with other service branches on campus.

NAVY R. O. T. C.

"Travel. Education. Experience. Training . . ." predict the posters.

"Show me." challenges the NROTC freshman. "Amen. Brother. Amen." philosophically mutters the salty Senior.

Travel? Indeed, we did! Norfolk, Spain, New York, Canada, England, France, Cuba, Corpus Christi, and Quantico felt the impact of our tourist temperament.

Training? Experience? Anyone who has shouldered an eight-pound rifle for nearly a hundred hours, taken a navigation final, stood countless hours of shipboard watches from frigid Labrador to the Equator, been jostled around a bouncing Navy bomber in flight, sloshed along fifteen miles of Marine Corps training mud, hills, and barbed wire, or watched a blood red sun rise from azure waters, holds a deed to a large plot of training and worthwhile experience.

At our home base, the building with the anchor and gun out front, the NROTC Staff catered to our educational needs by administering large doses of Naval and Marine Corps lore. Sandwiched between the Welcome Aboard Ball and The Farewell Ball was an eventful year which brought to us the return of Captain Eves, the founding of our Anchor and Chain Society, the marriage of our Unit's secretary, Mary Nelson, and the sorrow of the decease of Chief Quartermaster LaBash.

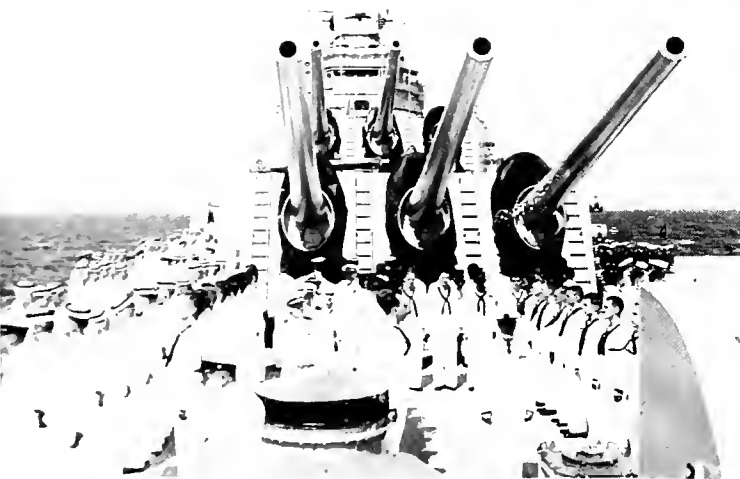

Look out Fleet, Pensacola, supply school, and Quantico, here we come! The posters told the truth.

The entire Naval Unit was deeply shocked by the sudden passing of our Chief LaBash. Though he has been taken from us, we will continue to benefit from his aid given in life.

AIR FORCE R. O. T. C.

The AFROTC, under the capable leadership of Colonel Charles Sommers, is now in its ninth year at Tulane University. The purpose of the program is to train and guide prospective college graduates for roles as officers in the United States Air Force.

Basic cadets, the freshmen and sophomores, receive courses in aviation history, global geography, military forces, air power, and elements of aerial warfare. After passing several examinations, including a physical, and being accepted into the advanced phase of instruction, the juniors are taught instructing techniques, problem solving, navigation, meteorology, and principles of military law. During the junior-senior interim, each cadet attends an AFROTC summer training camp at an actual Air Force base. The final years training includes leadership, management, political geography and the evolution of strategic warfare.

All cadets attend a weekly leadership laboratory, in which drills and ceremonies are practiced, under the command of the senior cadet officers.

Upon graduating from the University, the cadets are given second lieutenants commissions and serve a minimum of three years active duty in the United States Air Force.

Arnold Air Society

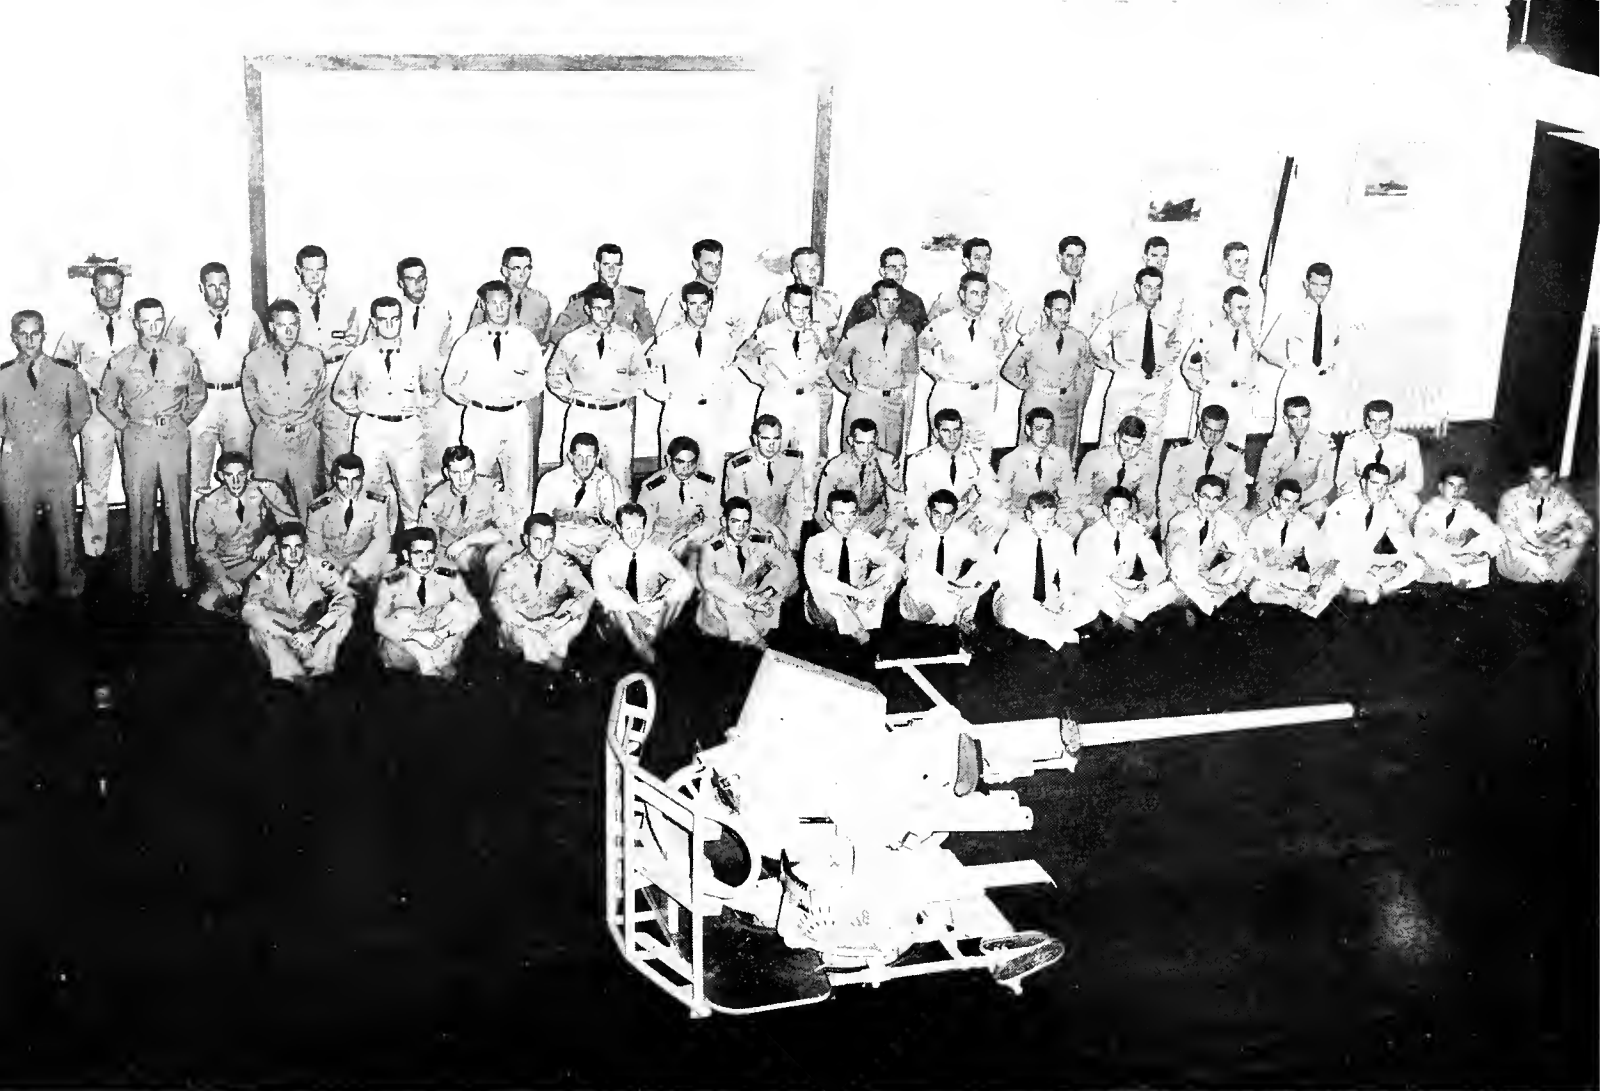

The Arnold Air Society is a national AFROTC Honorary organization. Members are chosen from honor students and selected on the basis of leadership, scholarship, service, and character. The society holds bi-monthly meetings at which time are presented pertinent lectures of current interest to potential Air Force officers. The group also sponsors activities directed toward stimulation of interest as well as reward for accomplishment.

The National Society of Scabbard and Blade is an honorary military society. It is national in scope, having chapters in the major universities and colleges throughout the United States. Its members are drawn from Cadets and Midshipmen of all the branches of the Reserve Officers Training Corps.

The society sponsors competition drill between the drill teams of each ROTC and between the ROTC's themselves. An annual affair is the Scabbard and Blade Military Ball, at which time a girl is selected by the society members to reign under the title of "Little Colonel."

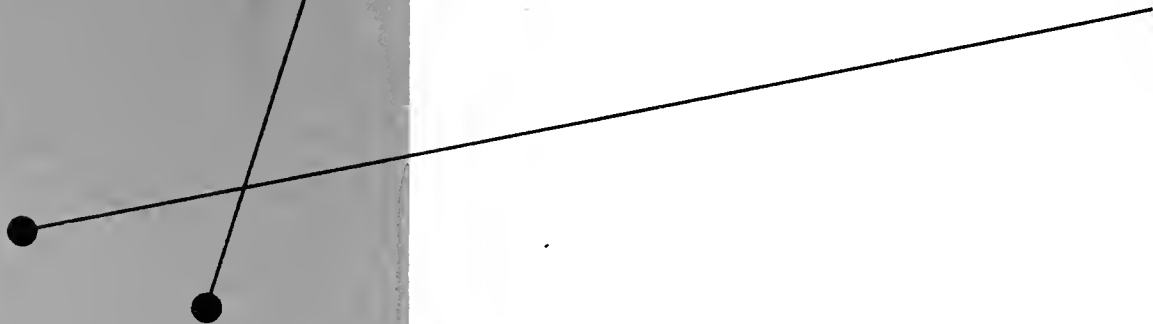

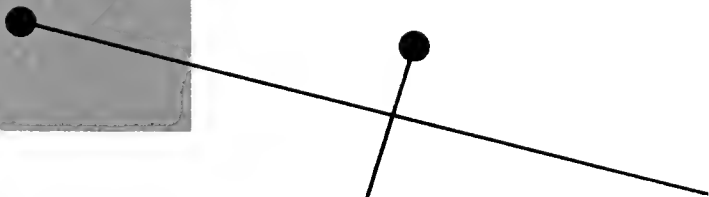

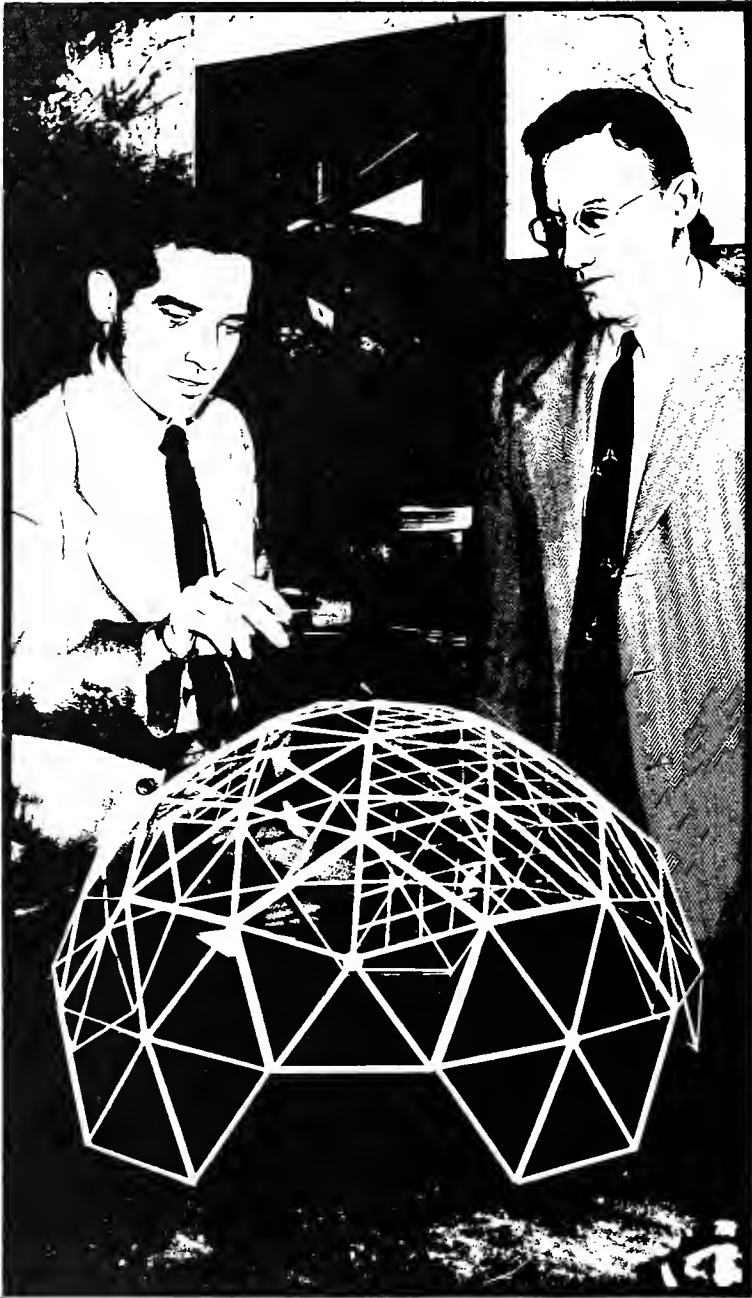

Membership in Scabbard and Blade is given to only a few. Grades, military aptitude, and average all-around campus interest are the prime requirements for selection for this honor.

FIRST SCORE of the year is made on a 31 yard pass play from Newton to Cottrell (35) who outruns VMI's defense.

The Tulane Greenies, rated in pre-season polls to have the poorest team in the conference, gave an indication that the prognosticators might have missed the boat by storming to a 20-7 victory over a mediocre VMI team.

Gene Newton, a swiveled hipped, soft passing quarterback and Ronny Quillian, a ramming fullback and booming punter, revealed that they might be the offensive threats needed to bring Tulane from football obscurity to a high ranking in the power packed SEC. Newton's mixture of passing and running led the Wave to two first half TD's.

Tulane's great All-American Tony Sardisco, who along with Bryan Burnthorne, Dalton Truax and Emmett Zelenka held the VMI charges to 78 yards rushing, recovered a fumble in the third period on the opponent's 30. Quillian, with Newton sandwiching in a 14 yard keeper, picked up the needed yardage to give Tulane a commanding 20-0 lead.

Eagerness and inexperience were the causes of Tulane's 160 yards in penalties. But the margin was enough to permit Coach Pilney to play 34 men in Tulane's first sign of a return to top notch football—something for which the fans of this area had long been waiting.

TULANE 21 TEXAS 35

It was just a case of "fumblitis" and a weak pass defense that permitted the heavily favored Longhorns of Texas to struggle to a 35-21 win over the Greenies. The Newton-sparked Tulane offense completely dazed the Texas defenders in the first half, and at intermission Coach Pilney led his boys to the lockerroom with a 14-14 tie.

Due to the lack of success on the ground, Coach Price switched Walt Fondren, who led Texas to both first half scores, to halfback and inserted another sophomore, Joe Clements at quarterback. Throwing with the accuracy of Robin Roberts, Clements scored once and passed for two touchdowns while completing 17 of 22 passes.

Two long passes by Newton set up Tulane's first score with Quillian bulling the final fourteen yards. A weak Texas punt following a long Tulane drive set up the second score; "Mouse" Newton threw to Billion for 24 yards and a tie game.

The Greenies outrushed the Texas team and again the forward wall was outstanding, but slippery fingers enabled the alert Longhorns to recover fumbles at decisive moments and thwart sustained Tulane drives.

NORTHWESTERN 0

Tulane paid their respects to sixteen members of the 1925 Greenies, the last Wave team to meet Northwestern. The "old-timers" won 18-7 in the game 30 years ago, and the present day Greenies thought that showing off for the grads was more important than being courteous to their visitors from Evans-ton. Again it was the clever calling of Newton that sparked the Wave to their second win. Crossing up the defense with magician ball handling, Newton led the speedy Tulane offense 77 yards with the ever dependable Quillian dragging three men into the "land of milk and honey." The Tulane defense tightened up on their five to stave off the Wildcats' only scoring threat.

Late in the 2nd period Will Billion alertly scooped up a desperation pass from the off-balance Jim Troglgio and trudged through fifteen yards of slush to score. In the second half Al Cottrell led the Greenies over 63 hard fought yards with rugged running, blocking, and sparkling pass-catching. The final score came at the climax of the drive as Quillian dived over guard to score and place him second in the SEC scoring race.

MISS. STATE 14

Primed for All-American Art Davis, the Tulane defense failed to recognize the passing potential of Bill Stanton whose passes at crucial points kept the Maroon drives rolling. Fumbles again hindered the Greenies as the State defense recovered four Tulane bobbles within 15 yards of paydirt, and it was a Greenie miscue on their own 31 that set up the Mississippians first score. They scored again on a weak Tulane punt that dribbled out of bounds on the Wave 34. Stanton led the State team to its final score as again the quarterback's ball handling kept the Greenies off balance.

It was not only a case of Tulane fumbling that hurt, but doing it at the climax of long drives. Quillian was a menace to the Maroons all afternoon: called upon 22 times to tote the leather. Quillian churned his way forward 103 yards. The center of the Tulane line was again led by Tony and Burnie with Jim Carmody doing a fine job of line-backing.

TULANE 13 OLE MISS 27

Clashing with Ole Miss in its 5th tilt of the season the gallant Greenies were outsmarted 27-13 by the SEC champs. Going into the game the Rebels boasted the nation's 8th leading gainer of total yards in All-American Eagle Day, but the hard hitting Greenie forward wall led by center Don Miller held the Mississippi quarterback to a total yardage of -17.

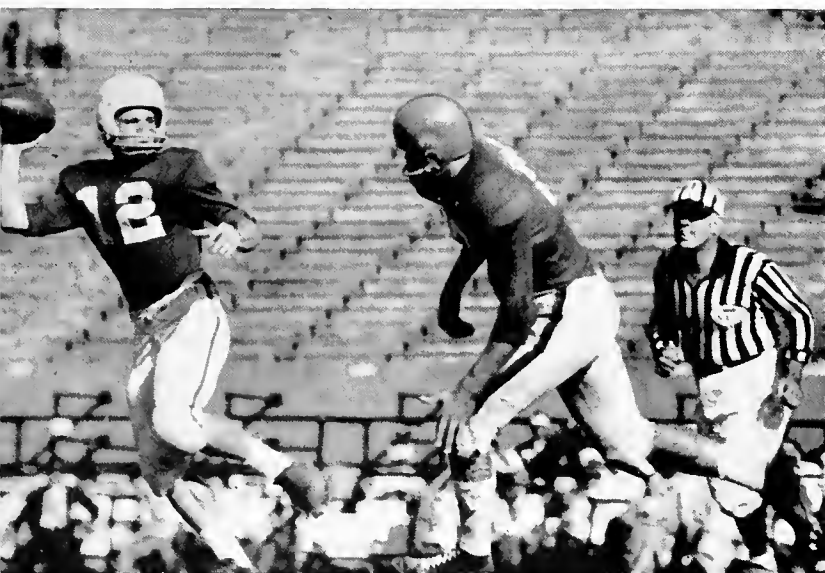

Tulane's shortcoming proved to be their inability to cope with the steady stream of Rebel reserves. Although Tulane outplayed Ole Miss' starting unit, they could not handle John Blaylock and Co. which accounted for all of the Mississippi markers.

Tulane drew first blood in the initial quarter as Otis Gilmore blasted 25 yards through the Ole Miss secondary. The Rebs countered immediately with Blaylock throwing two 55 yard touchdown passes, making the halftime score read 13-7.

Blaylock made it 20-7 in the third stanza on a keeper good for 11 yards and paydirt. Later in the period Tulane marched to the Ole Miss 17, but the drive fizzled as the ubiquitous Blaylock was there to intercept a pass.

The Mississippi crew iced the game in the fourth quarter as Paige Cothern scampered 20 yards for the six pointer. Tulane's final score of the game was perhaps the most exciting as Willie Hof grabbed a 65 yard Caruso heave and raced to the seven. Two plays later Caruso sneaked across the twin stripes from the one.

TULANE 14 GEORGIA 0

The Green Wave rolled into Athens and secured their first conference victory, flooring the Bulldogs 14-0.

Georgia moved the ball well, gaining a total of 197 yards, but when the chips were down the big Greenie line proved that they had the 'dogs by the leash; twice Georgia threats were stopped with Sardisco, Khayat, and Miller making ground gains next to impossible. Miller, possibly the most underrated lineman in the conference, stopped one of the Bulldog drives cold, snatching an aerial on the goal line and lugging it out 25 yards.

Another important factor in keeping the opponents away from paydirt was the sensational punting of Quillian; his high spiraling boots kept the Georgians deep in their territory throughout the game.

The principal word for Tulane's offense was Newton! The pint-sized quarterback accounted for 97 yards and scored both six-pointers. The first marker was made on a weaving 49 yard run in which the key was rocking down field blocking. Truax set up the second tally, recovering a Georgia fumble on the eight, from which point Newton swept around end to score.

Unimpressed by Auburn's number 8 ranking in the nation, Coach Andy Pilney and his staff primed the Tulane squad for its most valiant effort in recent years. Playing before a Homecoming crowd of 40,000, the Greenies made it known early that they were out to win and would take advantage of every possible break. To pick out an individual star would be impossible: the 27-13 victory was a team effort. This was perhaps the biggest upset in the TU-Auburn series since Jimmy Hitchcock led Auburn in 1932 over the same Greenie team that went to the Rose Bowl the preceding year.

After failing to capitalize on one early break, the Green Wave recovered another Tiger fumble and marched deep into the oppositions territory where a circus catch by Billion on a fourth down desperation pass from Newton put the New Orleans team ahead 7-0.

In the second period Caruso got off a booming kick that rolled out on the Tigers' goal line and Auburn's poor retaliating punt rolled out on their 24. On the first play from scrimmage Newton rolled out to the right and threw a soft pass to Gilmore who took it over his shoulder on the ten from which point he could have walked over. Again Zelenka converted making it 14-0 at halftime.

Another weak Auburn punt put them in trouble after the intermission: from the 42 Newton again led Tulane to another score. The play that set up the tally was a 20 yard pass from "Mouse" to Gilmore who was bounced out of bounds on the two. From there Quillian spiralled into the end zone. "The Toe" Zelenka put the extra point through the uprights.

The Plainsmen made their only sustained drive of the game with All-American Joe Childress, checked throughout the game by the great Wave line, leading the way. The fans breathed easier as Charles Hanson broke through to block the extra point attempt and leave the score 21-6. This score seemed to disrupt the Greenie pattern of success, and the old nemesis "fumblyitis" returned to plague Tulane. After the Tigers scored their second TD, a few minutes later the relapsing Greenies handed Auburn the ball again. On fourth down deep in Wave territory halfback Tommy Warner plucked Tubbs' flat pass out of the hands of the intended receiver and scampered 87 exhausting yards.

A fitting climax to the Greenies effort was the swarming of the fans onto the field to carry their deserving heroes off on their shoulders.

ALABAMA 7

A furious second half powered the Tulane Greenies past the Crimson Tide 27-7. Tulane which had toppled Auburn from the unbeaten list the week before was a bit overconfident in its "Alabama sweep." The spirited Tuscaloosans threw quite a scare into the Greenies as the score was knotted at seven all at the midway mark.

Playing before a hometown crowd in Mobile's Ladd Stadium, Al Cottrell countered the initial Wave tally on a ten yard spurt, capping an 83 yard drive. 'Bama evened things with a Starr to Germanos completion moving the ball to the two where Lumpkin hurdled over.

A rejuvenated Greenie unit took charge late in the third quarter, led by Center Don Miller. The Wave backfield could not be stopped as Quillian and Cottrell ate up yardage.

Quillian got marker number two after setting himself up with several line plays. He added the third also, carrying over from the seven, where the ball had rolled dead after Sardisco had knocked down a Bama punt. Cottrell ended the fireworks by walking the tightrope 37 yards down the sidelines with an intercepted pass.

VANDERBILT 20

Victorious in three straight outings, the Tulane Greenies were pitting their strategist Andy Pilney against Vandy's Art Guepe in the battle for a possible bid to the Gator Bowl and also for The SEC Coach of the Year award.

Pilney's men succeeded in stopping cold the highly touted Charlie Horton, with the exception of one brilliant 20 yard jaunt. But the Wave backfield could not roll as it was too often frequented with unwelcomed visits from the Commodore forward wall, led by two husky guards Hayes and Frank.

Large gaps with plenty of sunlight were opened by the seven mules from Nashville, and fullback King and quarterback Orr did not fail to capitalize. King's loping strides paved the way for two Vanderbilt scores, and the cagey Orr's handling of the pigskin made the Vandy offense almost impregnable.

Behind 13-0 early in the game, the Greenies struggled back into contention. John Caruso's magic toe set up the Wave 26 yards from a score: four plays later Quillian ripped across the dual stripes.

Because the Greenie quarterbacks were so violently rushed, only one pass was completed all afternoon: this proved to be the Wave downfall.

Vanderbilt scored once again in the last half, as they completely dominated play, topping the Tulane outfit in every department.

In one of the most evenly balanced games in recent years, the archrivals from LSU played host to an ambitious Tulane squad. Hoping for a fourth place finish in the conference, the Wave played heads-up ball and found themselves ahead 13-0, ordinarily a commanding lead. But usual situations are discarded in this series, and the air-minded Bengals stormed back to tie up the game, thus leaving no one completely satisfied.

The potent Green Wave defense, led by Burnthorne, Zelenka, and Sardisco, proved its wares early in the game by holding LSU on the 8. Then the Greenies outpunted the Tigers and on a short boot off the side of Smith's foot, the Wave was on the opponent's 25. Quillian smashed 13 gruelling yards for the first marker of the game; it was the seventh game in which the rammung fullback had crossed the goal line. Caruso kept the boys from Baton Rouge deep in their own territory with coffin-corner punts; Zimmerle capitalized on the first Bengal miscue by pouncing on a loose ball on the Tiger 21. Newton and Quillian worked it to the 6 where the Greenies employed the Mouse's roll out keeper with Tony and Burnie again leading interference. When Zelenka's extra point attempt was blocked, few then realized the decisive role of that play in the final score.

Neither team could penetrate the other's defense in a relatively dull third quarter, but the LSU fireworks broke loose in the final period as the Tigers finally took to the air. Reynolds led the offense 70 yards to a six-pointer at the beginning of the final stanza, and Graham converted. But in the game's most controversial play, the Tigers were charged with holding, and Graham's attempt from the 17 fell short. A weak quick kick gave LSU the ball at midfield, and Reynolds found Johns for three passes and a final TD. Graham's kick split the uprights—and a 13-13 game.

Tulane outrushed their opponents 243 yards to 35, but their inability to cope with Reynolds' bulls-eye tosses counteracted their supremacy on the ground.

TULANE'S de-EMPHASIS PROGRAM

Many people accuse Tulane of going too far in a de-emphasis program, but do they really know what constitutes a program under this assumed name? In 1953 Tulane reduced the number of athletic grant-in-aids; some may describe this as "de-emphasis," but the reasons for the reduction did not include any desire for athletics to be de-emphasized (whatever the word may mean).

Tulane now is fielding the best intercollegiate athletic teams it can produce, while maintaining its scholastic standing and conforming to the rules of the SEC and the NCAA. The prime consideration in formulating the athletic policy, as in any other policy at Tulane, is that the University's integrity as an educational institution must be maintained.

Financial consideration are important factors in determining the policy, and a privately endowed university is at a considerable disadvantage in carrying out an intercollegiate athletic program as compared with tax-supported institutions.

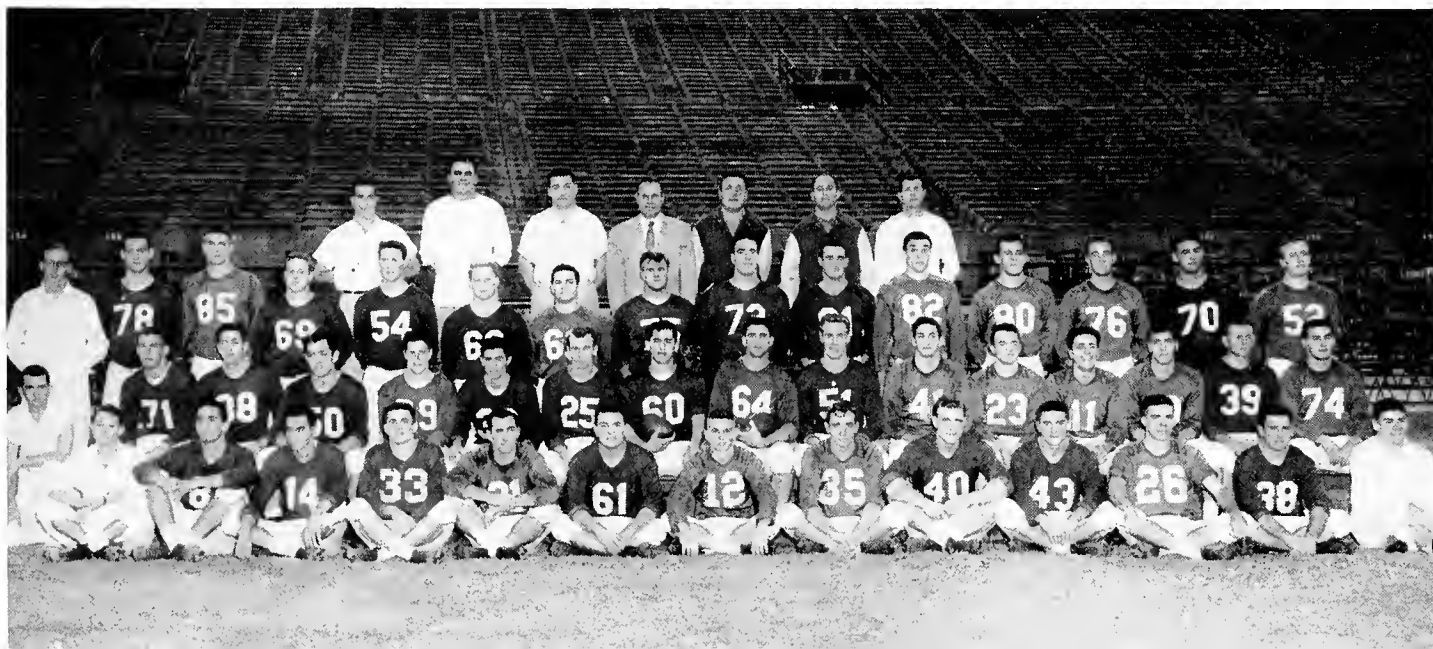

Quite a few changes have been instituted in improving campus life for the boys with grant-in-aids. Under the guidance of Athletic Director Dick Baumbach, the Athletic Advisory Committee have seen that the admission requirements and grade maintenance must be the same for all students and have encouraged non-scholarship holders to compete in varsity athletics. The committee also recommends that athletes integrate with other students in the dorm and participate in extra-curricular activities on campus. Much credit goes to this group for its helping to strike a happy medium in athletic emphasis at Tulane.

Now Tulane has more football players on scholarship than at any other time in history; this is partly due to the fact that freshmen are ineligible and to have a squad from only three classes necessitates this increase.

Next year's schedule only includes such grid powers as Texas, Navy, Georgia Tech, and Ole Miss. Having seen the facts, how can anyone say that Tulane is carrying out a de-emphasis program?

TONY SARDISCO'S

. . . CINDERELLA STORY

The magic wand of the Football Writers Association of America came down and tapped the helmet of Anthony Guy Sardisco, thus turning this monstrous 200 pound hulk into an All-American. The hour of Fate had finally come for Tony and for Tulane which had not had an All-American in the past five years. The 22-year-old senior from Bossier City, Louisiana thus became the 14th Greenie and the first Tulane guard to make the dream team.

Exceptionally fast and aggressive for a big man, Tony ranged far many times on defense to make the tackle and was adept at pulling out to lead interference on wide plays. Previously, Sardisco was recognized by the SEC 'check list' nine times and was awarded "Player of the Week" after the Auburn game. A regular for four years, Tony stands out as the only player in modern Tulane history to share the captaincy two years.

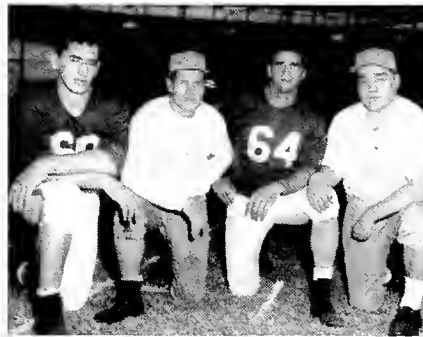

And now it seems that the professional ranks have found the cleated shoe that just fits Tony's foot, therefore offering him a promising future.

Coach Cliff Wells, the little cage master from Indiana, who looks more like a professor than a coach, preserved his record at Tulane by masterminding a weakened squad to a .500 record in the conference and an equal mark for all games. Starting the season with 11 men, the Greenies were not supposed to be in contention for the title, but were labeled in the "dangerous" category. With Captain Roy Stoll, Bobby Delpit, and Stanley Stumpf the only remaining veterans, Coach Wells was expecting help from Cal Grosscup, a transfer from Purdue, and from Tom Murphy and Jim Cothorn who spent most of their time on the bench last year. Up from junior college, Bob Ebker, John Mallory, and Bill Jargsdorf were expected to aid the Greenies, but just before the season's opener sophomores Jack Woods and Alan Mohr dropped out of school.

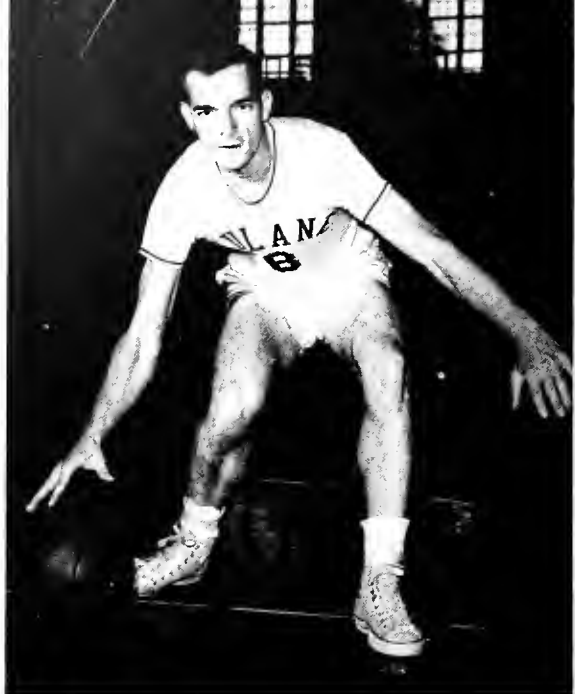

The Wave romped over small school opponents before running into two formidable representatives of the Southwest Conference. On a brief Holiday homestand the Greenies captured two out of three games against opponents ranging from New England to the Pacific coast. Making a creditable showing in the Orange Bowl Tourney, the Wave prepared themselves for their SEC opener against Georgia. Losing four of the first five games, the Greenie spirit reached its lowest ebb as the now seven man team played half heartedly against arch-rival LSU.

Realization of their lack of inspiration was brought to the attention of the team, and Coach Wells then cracked the whip. Coming out of the doldrums, the Wave was led to six victories out of the nine remaining conference games by Stoll, Grosscup, and Stumpf to place 5th in the SEC with a 7-7 record, thus placing a Wells-coached Greenie team in the first division for the 10th straight year.

The Greenie quintet copped its two opening tilts, turning back Southwestern of Memphis 95-50 and Louisiana College 94-61. Cal Grosscup bucketed 27 points in his initial appearance wearing a Greenie uniform, and Captain Roy Stoll hit for 20 against Louisiana College.

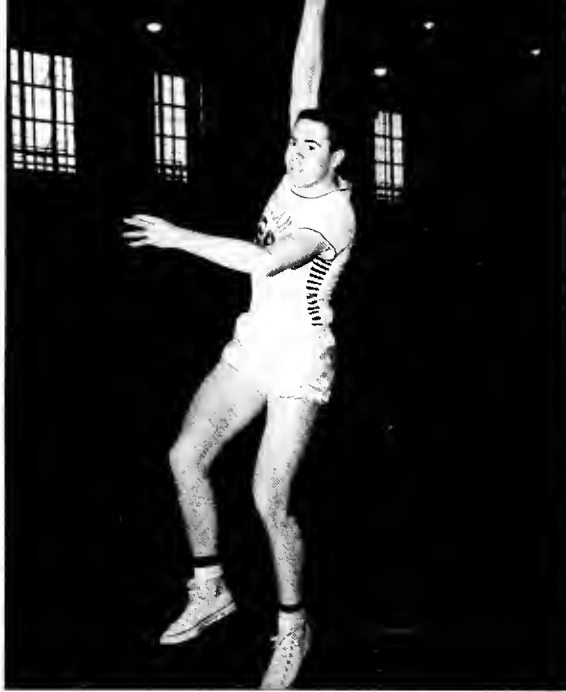

The Wave made an unsuccessful tour in Texas as they were downed by Rice and the Texas Aggies, 53-83 and 66-85, respectively. Back home for three games during the Holiday season, Tulane defeated Springfield (Mass.) 69-61, were squeezed out by the Buckeyes of Ohio State 66-72, and smashed Washington State, 91-52. Bobby Delpit, who remained with Tulane through their first eleven games, sacked 19 against Springfield, and Grosscup put in 20 against Ohio State. Perhaps the outstanding performance was Stoll's holding All-American Robin Freeman to his second lowest total of the year. Stumpf, Ebker, and Delpit netted 16 each against the Pacific coast quint.

Journeying to Miami for the Orange Bowl Tourney, the Wellsmen stopped NYU, 80-72 with Stoll dropping in 33 points. Advancing to the semi-finals, the Greenies bowed to Miami 75-86, as Stumpf took scoring honors with 20. Columbia evened the Green and Blue record at 5 and 5 with a 64-61 win in the consolation match.

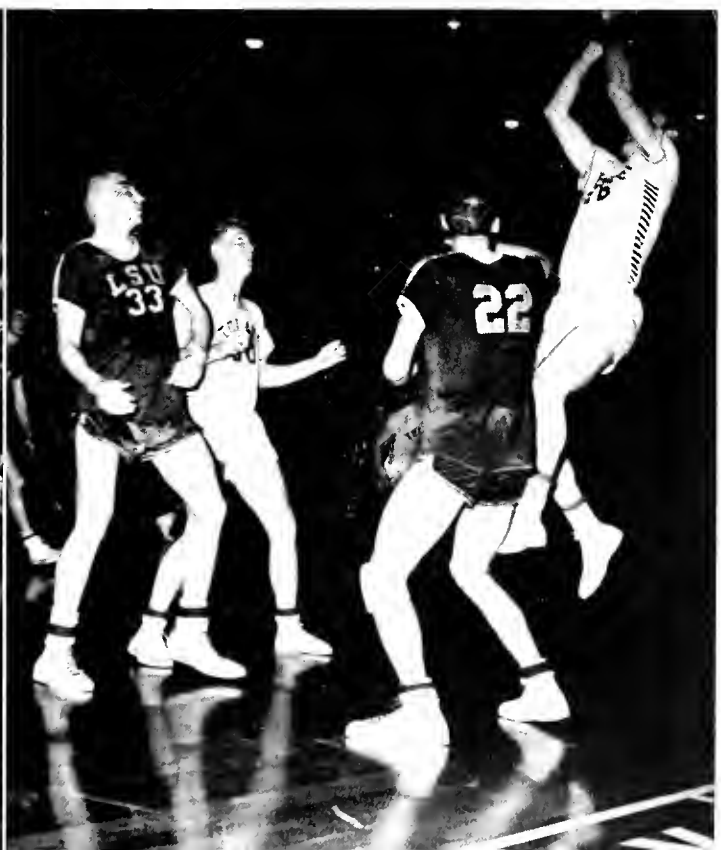

Meeting Georgia in their first conference game, Tulane handed the Bulldogs a 72-56 setback, with Grosscup tallying 18. Florida stopped the Orleanians 61-54 as the Wave got ready for its first invasion into enemy territory in the SEC. In the season's most disastrous losing streak, the Greenies were trounced by Kentucky, Tennessee, and LSU. The Wildcats rolled over Tulane 85-63, then the Vols slid past the Wave 81-68, and finally the Tigers, with a second half spurt, won 87-66. Grosscup, Stoll, and Stumpf led the losing effort on the trip, hooking in 53, 48, and 36 points, respectively.

It was only after their poor showing against LSU, not only on the scoreboard, but also on the matter of hustling, that the Wave opened their eyes and began to realize its lowly state with a 6-9 record. The Rebels from Ole Miss invaded the Wave gym and encountered a young man named Stanley Stumpf finding the range for 32 points and victory for Tulane, 93-82. The second of the Mississippi colleges in the SEC, Miss. State was also treated rather harshly by an inspired Wave squad. Hitting from all over the court, the Greenie team literally wore out the net. Their combination of accuracy and hustle spelled out many new records in Tulane's basketball history. Four major school records were broken as Grosscup with 41 points led the Wave to an astounding 110-72 victory; Stoll was way back in the scoring column with "only" 28. Grosscup's scoring spurt was a major factor in his drive toward becoming the highest scoring Greenie in a single season in history.

The Green team next embarked on a heartbreaking road trip to Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt. Leading by five points with only a couple of minutes remaining, the Greenies saw an alert Yellow Jacket squad steal victory right from under their noses 79-77. After hanging on with a valiant fight, Tulane was outlasted by the Nation's No. 4 ranked Vanderbilt Commodores who eked out a hard-earned 74-67 win. For the third time in the last four games, Stumpf was above the magic 20 and his continual rebounding was an important factor in the Wave's "new look."

The 79-60 score was not indicative of the respectable battle the Wave put up against Alabama's SEC champs; the Tide's depth was just too much for an outmanned Tulane squad. It seemed at this point in the season that the Wave, which had seen many tough breaks, would have to discard all hopes for a first division finish. Auburn's fourth place Tigers came into town hungry for revenge for the football upset administered by Tulane, but the Wave was not to be daunted. Led by Grosscup's 35 point effort, the Wave now had its future brightened. Repeat wins over the Mississippi squads on the road would be tasty to the drooling Greenies. Stumpf exactly equalled his 32 points scored earlier against Ole Miss, and the Wells-men edged the Rebs, 83-81. At Starkville two nights later, the Greenie five balanced its scoring in overcoming a five point deficit in the final minutes to win, 83-78.

Returning home for the season's finale against LSU, the Wave not only was seeking revenge, but wanted to garner fifth place honors all by itself. Stumpf and Grosscup led Tulane in scoring and rebounding while Stoll's floor play continually stymied the Bengals. Building up a margin to as much as 26 points, the Wave romped over the boys from Baton Rouge in the 81-68 conquest.

To single out any one individual in leading the "Natural Seven" in their comeback would be impossible. It took the knowledge of Coach Wells plus the desire to win by seven hustling boys to establish the Green Wave as the conference's most unpredictable team. We, the student body of Tulane, should tip our hats to these boys who did so much to reflect honor upon our university.

EMMETT PARE — PRODUCER OF CHAMPIONS

The producer of more SEC championships than any other coach in any sport in the history of the league—Coach Emmett Pare has brought Tulane national acclaim through its outstanding tennis teams.

Since coming to Tulane in 1933, Pare has compiled an astounding record of 145 wins, 23 losses, and 11 ties, and currently the Wave netmen have notched 44 consecutive dual match victories. In 17 SEC tournaments, Pare's squads have won 13 team victories and 12 of these years the number-one man was a product of Pare's teaching.

Emmett Joseph Pare was born in Chicago in 1908 and received his Bachelor of Philosophy from Georgetown University in 1930. The following year he joined the Bill Tilden professional troupe which toured the world. In 1933 along with Bruce Barnes, Pare won the National Professional Doubles Championship.

Coach Pare takes special pride in his tutelage of four National Intercollegiate Champions—Ernie Sutter (1936-37), Jack Tuero (1949), Hamilton Richardson (1953-54), and Jose "Pepe" Aguero (1955). Therefore, out of the whole nation, our university has had the number-one player 6 out of 17 years—an unparalleled record for an outstanding representative of Tulane.

Led by the nation's No. 3 amateur Hamilton Richardson, the Tulane tennis squad ran through their fourth straight undefeated season and 44th consecutive victory, thus remaining among the leaders in collegiate tennis. Coach Pare's boys amassed a perfect record in SEC competition plus non-conference wins over Lamar Tech, Rice, Northwestern, Western Michigan, and New Orleans Lawn Tennis Club. The year's only blemish was the match with Texas University in which the Wave was leading when darkness set in.

When Richardson relinquished his SEC crown, Jose "Pepe" Aguero, the Greenies' No. 2 man, was chosen to represent the conference in the National Intercollegiate Singles Championship. Aguero won the title, marking the third straight year that a Tulanian has captured the coveted honor. Besides Richardson and Aguero, Buddy Lomax, Henry Jungle, and Jerry Dalrymple each copped division laurels in the SEC tournament: these victories were coupled with three doubles championships, giving Coach Pare's squad eight of nine possible firsts.

Again tennis stands out as Tulane's finest contribution to the world of sports. With sophomores Lester Sack and Sonny Tsai moving up to the varsity ranks, it promises to be another banner year for the Wave.

WAVE "9" IN SEC CELLAR

With little more in their favor than the old standby of determination, the diamond men dove headlong into the season with a heartbreaking 1-0 loss to Ole Miss on March 25. From then until April 11, on which date the Greenies beat Mississippi State, 9-6, there was little to cheer about. The intervals between cheers after that were also overly long, even for the most apathetic of Tulane rooters.

With only a sixteen man squad, the Abadiemen could not have been expected to fare better than they did, but by giving everything they had in each inning of play, they earned the respect of every one of their few constant supporters.

The biggest ray of hope came from the record of the Freshman ball club, which in the eyes of the observers, gave promise of adding much to the Greenie fortunes in the next several years.

No, it was not a successful year from a won and lost standpoint; nevertheless, there was a fair share of thrilling moments provided by a multitude of outstanding individual performances—Tommy Warner's ninth inning home run against Miss. State to give the team its first win of the season—Leonard Selber's 5 for 6 against Ole Miss—Lionel Richard, who had to pitch so often that everyone wondered when his arm would fall off—"Cooter" Zimmerle getting a hit in every game—Tony Reginelli, whose late season drive brought his average above .300—Milt Retif who, despite a crippling leg injury, came through consistently as a pinch hitter. These highlights, along with the all-out effort put forth by all the boys, left the impression that the squad would be one to reckon with in the SEC for quite some time if the promising Freshmen pan out.

Ben Abadie did not have much to smile about in his first season in the third base coaching box, but he deserves the praise and well-wishes of everyone for getting the most out of an undermanned and under-supported club.

I-M DIRECTOR Ben Abadie discusses program with officers of Intramural Council.

I-M PROGRAM PROGRESSES—PRO-

Since its organization in 1953 under full time Director Ben Abadie, the Intra-Mural program at Tulane has improved greatly. Last year over one-thousand students, representing 34 different organizations, participated in ten different sports varying from football to ping pong.

The year's activities are centered around the Freshman-Sophomore game. All the color and rivalry of a big time college football game are included. The teams use varsity uniforms and equipment, and they have a queen with a court, cheerleaders, and a band. ROTC units drill at halftime, and a local sports announcer operates the P.A. system.

The governing body of the Intra-Mural program is the I-M Council. It formulates the rules and regulations of the various programs and makes the final decision in all disputes. It is composed of one representative from each participating organization with the director of the I-M program acting as advisor. The three senior managers serve as its president, vice-president, and secretary.

POOL SHARKS: Sidney Lewis (Army) and runner-up Jerry Glaser (Navy).

PING PONG champs: Walter Flato and Carl Goodman (Navy) with 2nd place Stanley Fagan (Irby House).

POSED FIELD HOUSE NEARER READY

Each of the championship teams is given a trophy and special awards are given to the teams finishing first or second in competition for the entire year.

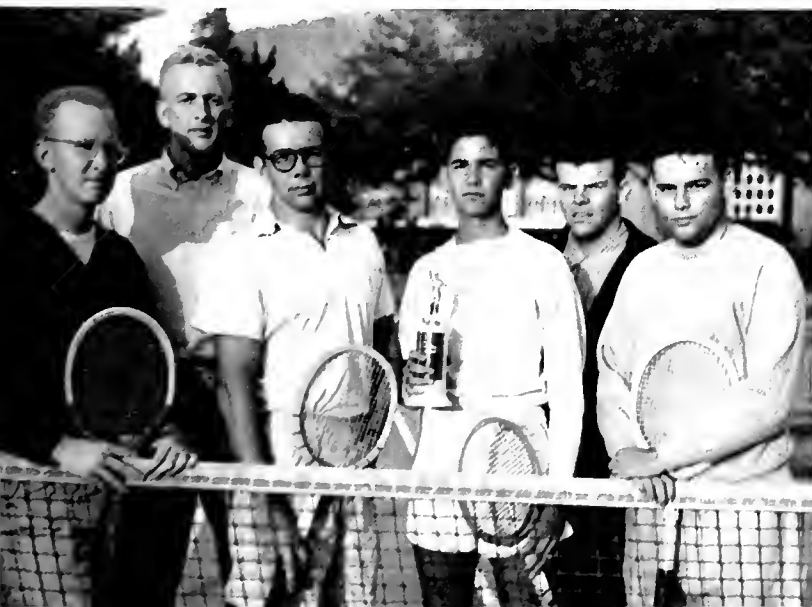

The main handicap of the organization is obtaining qualified student officials. A training school is conducted each year by the I-M director and is very helpful, but it takes two or three years to properly train an official. By the time a student knows his duties, he is ready to graduate.

The future of the Intra-Mural program at Tulane looks very bright with the coming construction of the newly proposed Fieldhouse in the back of the stadium. The planned Fieldhouse will be devoted exclusively to the use of the Intra-Mural program. Plans include a swimming pool, three basketball courts, handball courts, facilities for gymnastics, volley ball, ping pong, pool, and tennis. Next to it will be located a practice track field. The use of these new facilities will allow an increase in both activities and participation of students in Tulane's Intra-Mural program.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Special thanks for assistance in helping make possible this sports section go to EDDIE ALLEN, Tulane Sports Publicity Director whose knowledge and files proved invaluable, and to HAP GLAUDI of the New Orleans ITEM.

LINKSTER LOSSES LINGER

With number-one man Stanton Shuler as their only consistent winner, the Wave golfers had a rough time eking out three wins in a relatively simple nine-match season. This year with Shuler in Med School, prospects for an improved record are even more remote; the main hope comes from sophomores Eddie Weitz and Fritz Dahlberg who join veterans Dick Lyle, Sam Rosen, and Walker Sullivan.

Coach Innes Millar, the wee Scot from Carnoustie, found his 13th season as Wave golf coach an unlucky one. The team could only manage victories over small-time opponents Pensacola N.A.S., Lamar Tech, and Louisiana Tech.

The year's outstanding performance was provided by Shuler in the New Orleans Country Club tourney in which the Greenie linkster went to the semi-final round before losing to Western Amateur champ Eddie Merrins.

With an even more demanding schedule this year, hopeful Greenie fans will probably have to wait longer for a championship (or even winning) golf team.

Epsilon chapter of Alpha Delta Pi is proud to be a part of the oldest social sorority in existence. Epsilon this year celebrates its fifty-first flourishing year on the Newcomb Campus. Founded at Wesleyan College in 1851, the colors are white and blue.

Alpha Delta Pi members have always energetically been a vital part of a variety of activities at Newcomb. Activities have centered around the always successful formal dance in the Fall, and the annual pledge and initiation banquets. Another outstanding event on the social calendar was the spring house party.

Epsilon chapter of Alpha Epsilon Phi was established at Newcomb College in 1916. The colors are green and white and the flower is the Lily of the Valley.

During the summer Epsilon was the recipient of various honors given at a National Convention in Ann Arbor, Michigan. One of the highest honors was awarded to Epsilon for the third straight year—the Efficiency Cup. Another award—the history award also went to Epsilon.

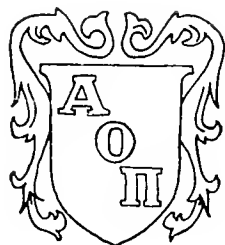

The Phi's have enjoyed many activities together, such as: an Open House for the newly acquired pledge, a buffet-dinner dance, a Spring formal, a pledge-active party, and the Senior Banquet to climax the social calendar. In Charity work, several members and pledges go each week to the various hospitals in New Orleans to entertain and help the children.

On the campus the AEPhi's are represented in almost every organization, where several have been recognized for their outstanding contribution to the organization. Our big moments of the year came when we won the 1955 Pan-Hellenic trophy, the Scholarship trophy, and first place in Skit Night for the sixth consecutive year. Again, Epsilon has had a prosperous and happy year at Newcomb.

Ye Olde Pie Shoppe

Founded at Barnard College in 1897, Alpha Omicron Pi has sixty-five chapters, one being Pi chapter at Newcomb College.

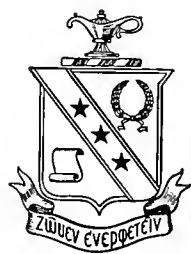

This year seems to have been a big one for the members of AOPi. Rush was a wonderful time for all, members and rushees as well. No one could have been prouder of the pledge class than AOPi was.

For Homecoming, 1013 Broadway sported a giant replica of Little Lulu with her Kleenex and at Campus Carnival throwing the pie at an AOPi was again a great favorite. Luncheons, suppers, banquets, informals, and formals kept the girls busy as far as social life—and a gay time was had by all. AOPi has been well represented in choral, religious, athletic, and spirit groups, and in all phases of campus activities.

Who dealt this mess?

The new cliché around campus is "busy as Beta Sigs" for during the past year Beta Sig activities—social, scholastic, and "what-have-you" have kept this close, active group mighty busy.

Parties make the world go 'round—and boy, did it ever spin this year. Our successful rush parties started the ball rolling and it never stopped. Spot lighting our social calendar were a Fall wiener roast, a Homecoming Party, a Christmas "mumble-jumble" party, a "Rancho Romp" square dance, and a Spring hayride. On the more quiet side we enjoyed a pledge banquet, an alum-active all day picnic, a Mother-Daughter Christmas dinner, a Founder's Day party and a Senior Banquet. However, the real highlight of our social year was an exotic black and silver Celestial Ball—'twas the talk of the campus! Although we list these parties, all who know the Beta Sigs know that wherever there is more than one there is bound to be a party.

Chi Omega was founded in 1895 at the University of Arkansas. In 1900, Rho chapter was founded at Newcomb, the sixth of 118 chapters to be established. Chi Omega ranks as one of the top sororities in national scholastic rating. Its national headquarters are in Cincinnati, Ohio. National conventions are held every other year in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia. Cardinal and straw are the sorority's colors and the flower is the white carnation. The Greek Outdoor Theater in Fayetteville, Arkansas, commemorates the founding of Chi Omega. It is an outstanding replica of Greek architecture in this country.

The Chi Omega's began their year with a houseparty at Camp Kittiwake on the Gulf Coast, preceeding a successful rush season. Among the many activities are frequent pledge-active lunches and suppers at the sorority house on Broadway. Other activities during the year include an annual pledge tea for pledges of other sororities, a Founder's Day Banquet in the Spring, and Christmas charity. The year was highlighted by the annual Winter Formal at the New Orleans Country Club.

Kappa Kappa Gamma was founded at Monmouth College in Illinois in 1870. Our chapter, Beta Omicron, has held an integral place on the Newcomb campus since 1904. Our colors are light and dark blue, our flower the Fleur-de-lis.

Rush week, preceeded by our annual pre-rush houseparty, resulted in the pledging of a wonderful group of girls, who have already added more than their share of Kappa spirit. A swimming party, the pledge banquet, a party at Fitzgerald's, and monthly pledge-active suppers helped welcome them into our midst. The Monmouth Duo dance, given jointly with Pi Phi in honor of the pledges, was even more successful than last year and promises to become an annual affair.

Honors came early to the Kappas in the form of the first annual Homecoming decorations cup. M. Dior and his dress-shop motto "We'll flatten 'em or bust" led Tulane and Kappa to victory. We also won Pan-Hellenic volleyball.

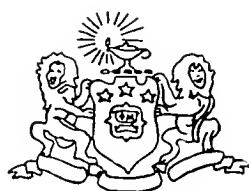

One of the most rewarding of our activities this year has been our work at the Crippled Children's Hospital. Each of us, in spending at least one afternoon a month working with the children or in one of the many other phases of hospital administration, has found great satisfaction.

Important dates on this year's Kappa calendar include several faculty coffees, our December houseparty, a steak and bean scholarship dinner, the Kappa Christmas party, a party during the Holidays for New Orleans girls who went Kappa at other schools, the Spring formal, the Founders' Day Banquet, other parties, Tuesday lunches, and, of course, active participation in every phase of Newcomb and Tulane life.

Rush-weary

In 1852 Phi Mu Sorority was founded at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia. The flower is the Enchantress carnation, and the colors are rose and white.

As usual the school year began with Orientation—and with Rush Week, which resulted ultimately in a splendid pledge class. The year's social calendar was crammed with monthly luncheons at the sorority house, a houseparty, and the annual formal at the Southern Yacht Club. Phi Mu's are active in nearly every organization on campus—cultural, educational, and social. Pride is abundant because of the interest shown by the girls who are in these organizations, and because of the great interest the whole chapter has shown throughout this year.

In 1867 Pi Beta Phi was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois. In 1891 Louisiana Alpha was established on the Newcomb campus. The flower is the wine carnation and the colors are wine and silver blue.

Following pledging was the traditional banquet held every year at this time, and the season was highlighted by several dances, climaxed by the formal.

The Pi Phis have been active and outstanding in all campus activities. Besides social and campus events, though, the Pi Phis have enjoyed many a time in helping the needy in some kind of charity.

The years activities of 1955-1956 marked the first year of Sigma Delta Tau's participation as a sorority chapter. Alpha Iota Chapter of SDT was officially recognized as the eleventh active sorority upon Newcomb campus on May 1, 1955. At this time the chapter received its charter from the National President who was in New Orleans to present the charter to the founders.

With its acceptance as an active chapter SDT took its first home at 919 Broadway. The spring and summer were spent designing, planning, and purchasing furniture for the new chapter room. Chairs, couches, tables, and lamps had to be bought in preparation for rush week and the first busy school year.

Rush having been successfully completed the group began a crowded schedule of work and play. First there was pledge installation followed by Brunch at Brennan's, a tradition begun with the first pledge class. Next was a Fraternity Open House to introduce the pledges to the fraternities and which also served as an introduction to the new chapter room. The schedule also included monthly pledge-active dinners, alumnae suppers, and breakfast for the visiting regional advisor. In November a Bermuda short party including hot dogs, drinks and dancing to combo music was held. Plans were also begun for a spring Formal Banquet and Dance and numerous other social events.

The work schedule consisted of philanthropic work at Charity Hospital, a Christmas party for orphans, entrance in school athletics, and participation in skit night. Between parties, work, and meetings the members kept busy striving for the growth of their new chapter.

TULANE PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Tulane Pan-Hellenic Council is the governing body for the social fraternities on the campus, and is composed of two representatives from each of the member fraternities.

Each year the Council supervises a diversified program of inter-fraternity competition and awards a permanent trophy to the winner in each event. At the end of the school year, the fraternity which has amassed the most points in this competition is awarded the Pan-Hellenic Trophy, symbol of over-all fraternity excellence. Events which are found in the yearly schedule are touch football, basketball, track, bridge, golf, handball, tennis, softball, bowling, ping-pong, songfest, swimming, volleyball, skit-night, Homecoming decorations, and Scholarship.

In September the council was host to a welcoming banquet for all fraternity pledges, and shortly before initiation week the Council sponsored its annual "Greek Week" which consists of a series of discussions among Chapter Officers and pledges. One outstanding part of Greek Week was "work day" in which the fraternity pledges, divided into teams, did various charity projects throughout the city. The climax of Greek Week was the Pan-Hellenic Formal, at which the 1956 JAMBALAYA Beauty Court was presented.

The trials and tribulations of rush were negated with the realization of a fine pledge class at the end of the week. The pledges then "treated" the actives to the traditional lagoon soaking in Audubon Park.

As the year progressed, the boys of 1018 Audubon continually registered on the social calendar with traditional blasts as the Carnation Ball and Christmas Party, culminated by the Dream Girl Ball.

Along with excellent Pan-Hellenic sports participation, Delta Sig also pitched in on Help Day and the Mother's March of Dimes.

Looking for memories?

Do you remember . . .

Our Friends in Business and Industry . . .

Do you remember what makes this book possible?—Business in New Orleans. Without the help of these friends and alumni our book would be only a dream instead of a realization. To these people we say "Thanks" from the Student Body.

What can we, as students, do to show our appreciation for giving us these memories through our book? This is a question often asked but rarely answered. However, we feel we have the right answer. PATRONIZE THESE ADVERTISERS!!! Actually give these friends your business when you start to shop. You'll find them courteous, friendly, and a pleasure to do business with. These advertisers have shown us their friendship, so let's show them our friendship.

We can only hope that this yearbook will remind you of the happier moments of your college life in 1955-56. All we can do now is strive to present you with more and better memories in 1956-57.

Owner of Arnaud's Restaurant, daughter of the late Count Arnaud, founder of the restaurant that bears his name, as well as creator of many famous Creole and French dishes famed throughout the world.

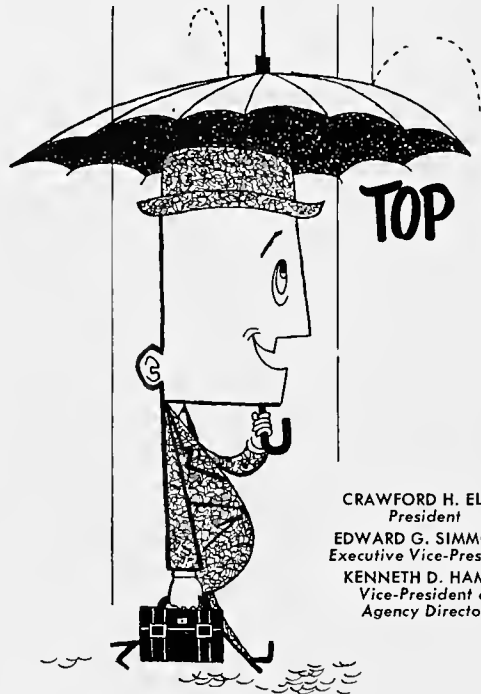

ARNAUD'S—Selected the best restaurant of the South for the 2000th anniversary of the founding of the City of Paris.

Few are the people who set foot on the sidewalk of New Orleans who do not seek to learn the location of Arnaud's and forthwith journey there to enjoy this famous cuisine. After partaking of a notable meal, guests frequently ask the derivation of a particular dish: "Is it French?" "Is it Spanish?" The answer is that it is a combination of the wizardry of the French with the art of Spanish to make Arnaud's masterpieces.

builders of industry

American industry will grow in direct proportion to the quality of our citizenry.

We look to our institutions of higher learning to turn out graduates so trained that they can and will build the future prosperity and greatness of our state and country, and we expect an important share of this training to be done in the Tulane University of Louisiana.

There are remunerative and varied opportunities for graduate engineers in the construction industry, and to those interested we suggest an interview.

"... No, I guess you didn't have time to remember this place."

What would Jambalaya be without rice?

To jambalaya and gumbo, shrimp Creole and good honest beans, rice is indeed essential. The rice business itself is a great and satisfying one. Growing and milling, marketing and merchandising—these offer a constant challenge to those of us who live with, by and for the rice of Louisiana. Growers work to improve the varieties. Scientists develop new uses for rice. Our own company made marketing history this year by introducing a package design new to the industry. Every enterprise affords such new and ever-interesting possibilities.

As a graduate of Tulane University, you have the advantage of a fine start. It is our hope that your future "building years"—whether they be in industry or science or a profession—will also be good years, yielding many challenges and rich rewards.
